Hardy's Special Christmas Vacation

Read the passage and answer the following questions:

Christmas is a time of happiness and family. Hardy, a young boy, was excited about his Christmas vacation. He lives with his family in a small town and had a wonderful plan for his holiday.

Hardy prepared for the vacation by packing his toys, warm clothes, and his Christmas wish list. The car ride to their vacation spot was filled with cheerful songs, and Hardy enjoyed singing along with his family.

They arrived at a cozy cabin in the mountains. The cabin was covered in snow, and it made Hardy very happy. His first wish was to build a snowman, and so they all went outside. They made a big snowman with a carrot for the nose and buttons for the eyes. It was the best snowman Hardy had ever made.

After playing in the snow, they went inside. Hardy's mom baked cookies, filling the cabin with a sweet smell. Hardy helped decorate the cookies with colorful icing and sprinkles. They all knew that Santa would love these treats when he came to visit.

On Christmas Eve, they sat by the fireplace, sipped hot chocolate, and shared stories. Hardy's dad read a Christmas story, making the night warm and cozy. This family time was very special to Hardy.

The best part of Christmas was opening the presents. Hardy had been good all year, and he couldn't wait to see what Santa brought. On Christmas morning, he found a pile of beautifully wrapped gifts under the tree. He tore open the gifts with excitement, and he was overjoyed with the toys he received: a toy train, a teddy bear, and art supplies. However, he knew that the best gift was being with his family during this special time.

As Hardy looked out of the cabin's window at the snow-covered landscape, he felt grateful and full of love. His Christmas vacation was a time of making memories, sharing love, and experiencing the true magic of the holiday season. It was a reminder that the simple joys of togetherness are the most precious gifts of all.
