What is Ramadan

Name: _____ Class: _____

Read the passage and answer the questions at the end.

Ramadan is a special time for Muslims all around the world. It is the ninth month of the Islamic lunar calendar. During Ramadan, Muslims fast from dawn until sunset. This means they don't eat or drink anything during daylight hours. Fasting is an important part of Ramadan because it helps Muslims feel closer to God and reminds them of the suffering of those who are less fortunate. Muslims also spend more time praying and reading the Quran during Ramadan. They believe that during this month, the Quran was first revealed to the Prophet Muhammad. Many Muslims try to complete the entire Quran by reading a little bit every day during Ramadan.

Ramadan is not just about fasting and praying. It is also a time for giving to those in need. Muslims are encouraged to give to charity and help those who are less fortunate. This helps to strengthen the sense of community and compassion among Muslims.

At the end of Ramadan, Muslims celebrate Eid al-Fitr, which is a festival that marks the end of fasting. It is a time for family and friends to come together, share meals, and give thanks for the blessings they have received.
